Molson Coors Brewing Company UK (Ltd)

At Molson Coors Brewing Company, our vision is simple – we seek to delight the world's beer drinkers while securing our future as a top-tier global brewer.

We're the UK's second largest brewer and the European subsidiary of Molson Coors – the global family brewer. We boast Europe's largest brewery and brew some 7 million barrels of beer a year. Available in over 30 countries, our brands include Carling, Grolsch, Coors Light, Worthington's and White Shield, all of which are brewed by our exceptional people in locations throughout the UK.

And we innovate in all that we do. Right now we've our sights set on becoming one of the 4 most profitable brewers in the world and are using our brand and people-power to get us there. We're committed to refining our established drinks and developing exciting new ones, creating brands that people love and giving talented, ambitious people the opportunity to prove what they can do in a competitive and exciting marketplace where the challenges – and rewards – come thick and fast.

For the position of Shift Production Manager we are looking for someone who is degree educated or equivalent with a demonstrated track record of leading teams within a FMCG / Manufacturing or a Pharmaceutical environment. Brewing experience would be an advantage but is not essential – it is more critical you have the ability to drive results through your team. Proven experience of developing teams, driving accountability to team members along with motivating and energising colleagues is essential. Change management is critical to your success in this role as is the ability to embrace change within a fast-paced environment. You will be expected to drive change and continuous improvement along with being an ambassador of Molson Coors Brewing Company. In order to succeed in this role you will need to be able to influence people at all levels and have a natural ability to understand what motivates individuals.

If that sounds great to you...

...come and talk to us.
